SIXTY BUILDINGS AND SIX ROUTES AROUND A REBUILDING CITY

The second in the series of guides to New Zealand's urban architecture by the well-known team of writer John Walsh and photographer Patrick Reynolds. This handy pocket-sized book suggests a series of city walks that take in both the historic buildings that survived the earthquakes and the striking new buildings that have risen from the rubble, 60 buildings in total.

It's the perfect guide for visitors to Christchurch and also for locals who want to know more about their city.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

John Walsh is the communications director for the New Zealand Institute of Architects. He is the author (with photographer Patrick Reynolds) of several major books on architecture, including New New Zealand Houses, Home Work, Big House Small House and City House Country House. They also collaborated on this book's companion guide to Auckland. Patrick Reynolds is one of New Zealand's best architectural photographers.
